It is with love and appreciation that I acknowledge the living heart, head and hands in my life, Carson, Bryn and Kaitlin. They are a blessing in my life and not only because they are my children. Their contribution to this work is priceless.

For the last five years they have assisted in many aspects of this work. They have rolled maps and wrapped books. They have stuffed and folded countless pieces of paper and patiently attended my lectures.

They have been servants to a nobler cause and have chosen it through the circumstances of their birth. Their innocent eyes and ears have always been open and they have accepted this work without judgement or expectation. I honor their devotion and tolerance and thank them for giving me the privilege to be their mother.

It is with sincere gratitude that I thank all Ascended Master students and chelas; who now awaken to the privileged service of their earth mother.

T R I B U T E

This second volume of earth changes information for the world is held by the gentle and feminine focus of Beloved Kuan Yin. It has been a tremendous honor to work with her as her presence has gifted our consciousness with a steady and unifying harmony. She is an archetype of the feminine for our planet, known commonly as the Bodhisattva of Mercy and Compassion. She now carries a message called Unana to the earth and its peoples. It is the simple, the beautiful, the unhidden, ONE.

*"Beloved mighty Unana, let my eyes see no more suffering.
Beloved mighty Unana, let the law of one prevail."*

Is our constant unyielding struggle for individuality only a prelude for yet another realm of conscious reality? She, and her brothers and sisters of expanded experience ask that we consider this. There is an urgent call within our family to move beyond the personality and find the healing power present in group consciousness.

We have been gifted with a beautiful picture of Kuan Yin that is contained in these pages. This picture has come to us from Susan Hall, who acquired it through her travels in the Far East. The photographer, flying above India's Bay of Bengal, noticed an unusual cloud formation and quickly snapped his camera. When the photograph was developed, there was Kuan Yin! If you look closely at her dainty hands, you can see her sprinkling holy water. We are honored to have her presence included in this work.

Kuan Yin's lotus of untiring service to humanity is now opened across our planet. Now perhaps, we, can open her message, and let the divine plan work through us.

"You are a oneship and every one of you form this life."

F O R E W O R D

This book is the continuation of earth changes prophecies from the Ascended Masters and is the prophecy of change for Asia and Australia as presented through Kuan Yin. She was an incredible and precious energy to work with. The word which best describes her is an eastern Indian word, sattva. Sattva means harmonious response to vibration and Kuan Yin's presence during this work brought an ordered harmony to the Master's message of change. Never before has the metaphor of changing consciousness pronounced itself so clearly against the backdrop of cataclysmic earth changes that could literally destroy millions of lives. Never before had I heard strong words spoken so softly that my heart couldn't miss the potency of the message. Never before did I hear a perilous warning whose outcome we could only change through our conscious choice. Kuan Yin's message carries the sattva of hope and peace for our world of ceaseless change.

When I received this body of work she would pace softly behind my chair. Her features were porcelain delicate and she spoke with a voice of calm certainty. Sometimes the scent...her scent, of orange blossoms would faintly drift through the air. Sometimes you could hear an audible high pitch ring in the background which often accompanies an Ascended Being when they lower their frequencies to our dimension. I encourage you to read the messages contained in these pages. Moreover, I encourage you to 'feel' their energy, the consciousness of their words, the perfection of their service and the harmonious response you encounter. Your sattva awaits you.

The words you're about to read in this book are also a continuation of my experience. They are teachings that the master teacher Saint Germain has repeated are for those "whose eyes and ears are open." They are of course, in the spiritual tradition, intended for the receiver of the message first. I am sharing this material with you as requested by the Master teachers to, "Send this message to the earth with love."

Please read these words with an open mind and an open heart. Of course, they are colored, as the personality is everpresent in our plane of experience. I also ask you to apply this information and see what happens to you in your 'own' experience.

Some of you will be reading this material from curiosity. Some of you will not find the sensational information you so hoped to find and put this book down. I welcome the one who courageously stays with this material as it is a course that prepares consciousness for change.

If you prepare or not a great change is coming. This change is the opportunity of lifetimes and carries the promise of a worldwide evolution towards peace.

If, through reading this book, you experience a transformational change... Hitaka! So Be It! You have experienced sattva.

Copyrighted Material; Sample page 7 of 21

If this doesn't happen now try later. Shelf this book for later use or pass it on to someone else. Perhaps it will plant a seed for where and when it is intended.

Share your harmonious response to all vibration everyday. Practice it, demonstrate it, BE IT. According to the Master teachers it is the only way to save our planet from destruction. They call it the law of love. This is an urgent and critical call that only the law of love, the ONE, can answer. Sisters and Brothers of the planet, I greet you and welcome you in the ONE sattva. UNANA!

with love, I AM,
Lori Adaile Toye

EDITOR'S NOTE

Over the years I have learned that the most important thing to understand when experiencing or reading channeled material is the concept of subtlety. Very often, the Masters will present an idea so expansive, so challenging to our belief systems that, initially, it just zooms over the tops of our heads. Instead of pounding their ideas into us, the Masters of Wisdom seem to prefer a slow and painstaking methodology of gently planting the seed and trusting that over time, their truths will take root within us. Well, thank God for reprints.

We've sold this book for about three years and when questioned by students and readers about its content our response typically was, "Oh, those are the prophecies for China, Japan, Micronesia and Australia." But, when rereading the contents of New World Atlas, Volume Two with the intent to construct a more thorough Contents Page for a second reprint, I made a startlingly discovery. This book isn't primarily about the prophecies of these areas; this is a book about Free Energy and Freedom. What the Masters hope to emancipate with this information is our consciousness.

This was an exciting process for me, and I realized that this book is a manual for students who want to learn about Free Energy. Free Energy is founded on three profound laws that are interwoven throughout everything: 1) The Law Of Attraction 2) The Law Of Rhythm 3) The Law Of Surrender and Non-Judgement. Free Energy also utilizes two spiritual ideals, Liberty and Grace. We can create these spiritual states through the use of the Violet Flame.

"So what!" You might be saying to yourself, "How will this really help if indeed we do experience the worst of the earth changes prophecies?" Quite a bit. In fact, by applying these teachings you may discover that the part you play can turn the world completely around to a whole other way of thinking. The Master Teachers call this new way of thinking, The Age Of Cooperation.

With careful reading of this work, you'll discover that Free Energy is really the key. It is said to lead us to an understanding of the ONE. We then evolve, in essence, into a ONESHIP. From there, we can transform our consciousness from competition into complete cooperation and master duality through examples of Soletata with an honoring of the feminine energy. I won't go into great depth here, just read the chapter and you'll understand.

But the best part is, as always, left for last. After passing the tests of Soletata, our consciousness is then prepared for Unana. Unana is the Christ Consciousness, and the Masters say that this level of consciousness assists our entry into yet another level of divine realization known as Sumanec. It is my hunch that in the state of Sumanec we sustain a deathless, diseaseless body, and our work and mission as Creators is realized in even greater perfection. Sounds a little like an Ascended Master, doesn't it?

Copyrighted Material; Sample page 9 of 21

So, from Earth Changes prophecies, to Free Energy and onward to Ascension, the difference and the link between each subject covered in this book was and always is subtle. As Kuan Yin says, "There is no mystery in creation; only the wonder and beauty that you are of it and it is of you."

O NESHIP

SAINT GERMAIN
KUAN YIN
April 22, 1993

Welcome Beloved Chelas, I Am St. Germain, and I stream forth on that mighty Violet Ray, that mighty Violet Ray known also as the ray of mercy and forgiveness. As you know, dear hearts, I must request permission to come forth into your energy fields.

Dear One, come forward please.

And with me today is my Beloved sister, known at one time as Chohan of the Violet Ray, Beloved Kuan Yin. The discourse for this morning will introduce some of the facts surrounding earth changes material. This earth changes material from the Ascended Masters of the Great White Brotherhood, have requested that it be relayed to your consciousness in the form of prophecy.

Humankind upon the planet has long sought the wisdom of those who had the eyes to see and the ears to hear. Those who have the eyes to see and the ears to hear, know that it is always within their action that is the first cause. We shall address this in a short discourse.

Prophecy comes to this planet to bless mankind, and it reinstates a spiritual heritage deep within the heart. Deep within your heart is this flame of freedom, the great I AM. You have known this as the flame of love, wisdom, power, and desire. However, we call it the great flame of freedom, for it is this flame that leaps to the monad and in that gentle merging ascension occurs.

Upon your Earth plane and planet your thoughts and feelings have no longer integrated with that known as your flame of freedom. How many upon the Earth plane and planet now express and align with the freedom within their heart? Very few do this, indeed dear ones, very few. This prophecy comes to the Earth plane and planet for those who have the eyes to see and the ears to hear to open to the flame of freedom within their heart. Hear it, for it is not only a gentle urging but a major prodding.

The time has come for you to move. Move not only from where you are living, but move into your heart. See that you serve that one great mighty force, I AM. Only in the service to the mighty force I AM will you find your eternal and infinite freedom. As every one of you has offered yourself to be of service, the time has come to the planet where you act with service.

Let go of these wounds that you carry, worrying if your Mother or Father was good enough to bring you forth. Are you not here? Are you now exposed to a greater truth? Have you been exposed to a greater consciousness? The time has come for you to act with this consciousness. Stand up! You are a God free being. Stand up and put your hand in action if your ears are open and your eyes can see.

Prophecy comes to this planet to open your eyes and open your ears. Primarily, it speaks to that flame within your heart and you will know it is time for you to move.

Change has always intimidated those who hang on to too much. Accept that change is life. With each movement of the wind and movement of sand is this movement of energy. If we do not participate freely and actively in the movement of energy, we no longer are in service to life. Many of you say and claim, "I must not move. I must stay put. I must slow down." Understand, dear ones, it is this movement, this continuous wave that is the essence of the breath of life. Find within it the gentle urging and longing to express the freedom of your heart, and let this flame of divinity now speak to the world.

The earth changes prophecies come to free all of humankind. They come to birth you, transform you, and tantalize you, and then place you into your flame of freedom. Many of you have worried about shifting coasts, volcanic explosions, and changing faces of mountains. This is change. Bless it. Understand it. Be it, and then take your role as a co-creator; a co-creator who now chooses divinity over the self.

If you choose a cycle of earth changes, then understand, dear ones, that at any point along this line, you too, have the right to enter back into your divinity. If you choose an age of grace, then you must understand the workings of cosmic principles and your adherence to their active principle will ensure your sustenance and maintenance in the Golden Age. You may say this path is narrow and requires much discipline.

This path requires but one principle. It is the principle of freedom and when you have all thoroughly understood that only in freedom do you live and breath and have your true nature and being. Each one of you, dear Chelas, allow this freedom to your brother and sister. Allow this freedom to all of creation to express from its heart. This is a heart that functions, not from the center of passion, but functions from the law of love and understands the beauty of the wisdom ray. It commands and demands the mind to do the choosing and therefore the choice is made and no longer a prerogative. Indeed as you travel along this path, the time comes where you see no choice required.

What you have done is breathed the breath of the divine plan and this divine plan will now move you effortlessly as if you are sailing with the open sail. It moves you effortlessly to your destination. But first the pivotal position in freedom to assist your choice. This choice is based on the intelligent mind and the active heart. All of you upon the Earth plane and planet have taken in much information from the great I AM, whom you also know is the mighty source. Many are speaking about the times that Oregon and California will fall into your Pacific Ocean. This, I assure you dear hearts, is too, your choosing.

Perhaps the time has come to blaze transformation to those who live on these lands. Perhaps the time has come to blaze them in the freedom flame. Perhaps the time has come where you will make a choice and this choice will serve your I AM, your great divinity and not the self. Understand, dear ones, that who serves the great I AM, the great God being, the divinity, then serves the all. We have this opportunity to activate the 51 Golden Cities and enter into the consciousness of Unana.

The probability, at this moment, for a geophysical change, is still very high, for many have not changed their hearts, nor changed a mind. Many of you still perceive that suffering is the way you will attain anything for the self. Many of you still perceive that it is a time that you should only take care of self. The time has come where you will choose regardless of your self. This is your choice dear Chelas.

I would like to outline a strategy for the next six months. If you have been requested to travel to the 48th parallel to send your healing thought and prayer, it is my request that even afterward, that this is where you focus your healing rays. Send this green ray and pink ray to the 48th parallel of the planet. This is a meridian of the planet associated with choice and herein lays the collective choice for your hologram serving the conscious form of Beloved Babajeran.

All of you who have made unnecessary stores of food and supplies worry about the safety of the self. The time has come for you to unlock each of these stores and share them, for you are in the earth changes, now! Your consciousness will affect the outcome. Pray for peace, brothers and sisters, ask for this peace to come from the highest good of the divine plan. All of your borders tremble with the pressure of those who wish to take your freedom from you. Pray for peace, pray for freedom.

We are here for your assistance, but we are not allowed to interfere, unless you ask. Ask of us to bring our radiance. We are willing and waiting at all times to be of service to you upon the Earth plane and planet.

Dear hearts, time, yes too, it is critical. If these changes are not seen within your hearts, you will enter into a 20 year period of geophysical change. Make your choice and make it today and know, dear ones, that I live within the mighty I AM of freedom.

And now I would like to turn this discourse over to Beloved Kuan Yin.

Kuan Yin walks forward. Her form is delicate and perfect. Her porcelain skin emits a golden glow. She is surrounded by brilliant violet and green light.

Dear Chelas, I AM Kuan Yin, and I request your heartfelt permission.

Dear loved one, please come forward.

My Beloved Brother, St. Germain, speaks with a heavy heart. However, I have come to lift this burden as you have called to me. I bring back my gifts of love and open a lotus across this planet for I see each one of you is dear. You are as children filled with joy and much activity!

Your activity is joyful to me and your laughter blesses this harmony of the spheres. I hear it as a sound and I take great delight in serving my children, and I too knew this time when laughter filled my physicality. I too, knew this time where joy filled each cell of my being and I too have now expanded on to give you service in remembrance.

Remember, as you play dear children, who your playmates are. They are an extension of you and as an extension of you, they are as you. Every being, individual, flower, and animal are of you and you are of it. As this may be most difficult for you to comprehend because you have gathered your consciousness into this separate being. Work to extend your consciousness into all that is around you. Be it simply called a flower and let your consciousness become it and it becomes you. Loosen these barriers of spacial infringement and you will understand that within your being you are it and it is you.

As I am serving as sponsor of this Greening Map, I bring to you these laws of mercy, forgiveness, and compassion. One cannot understand these laws until one understands their contribution to these laws through choice. Each and everything around you is you and you are it. This may seem difficult to comprehend, but herein lies the Law of Compassion.

Upon the Earth plane and planet are the islands known as Japan. Great tidal waves are prophesied to come. For these peoples are asked to view every living organism upon the planet, as one.

You are all Japanese!

You are all African.

You are all European.

You are all American.

See dear beings, every one of you are members of a race of friendship. You look at the color of your skin, the shape of your eyes, color of your hair, and make a distinction of what you are.

You are all blue eyed, you are all brown eyed, you are all black skinned, you are all brown skinned, you are red skinned and white skinned. You speak in many tongues and sing in many voices. You are a oneship and every one of you form this life. You cannot exist as just one white skinned. You cannot exist as just one brown eyed. You cannot talk in just one voice, for you all form a grand symphony. You all share in the oneship. You are one voice. You are one song. You are one life. As the Sea of Great Mercy forms, every one of you will understand your collective oneship and open to these laws of compassion. And to celebrate this law of one upon the planet, three Heavenly Islands appear, carried as in heavenly clouds and these islands will serve to be the anchor of heaven on earth. Many shall travel to these islands in the days of birth and experience the great reunion of all of you to one another.

As you have heard these prophecies of earth changes, to this known as the greening lands, all people are called to understand that they are one law with this land. They are one with my Beloved Sister, Babajeran. As she has opened her bosom up, each and everyone is called to sit upon her lap and allow the bounty of the universe to provide. The time has come for restoration and this restoration will heal all wounds of the soul and bring a bountiful garden for all to partake from.

As I was known at one time as Chohan of the 7th ray of mercy and compassion, I bring this identity back to you dear children and it is my gift. In India you shall smell my scented flowers, for each scent is a blessing. Take the time dear children and smell these scents for they carry the vibrational frequencies of the law of oneship. As you take this scent into your being, do you not become it, and suddenly you and the flower are one.

In the Bay of Scented Flowers look for my appearance for that is where I shall appear first and I will shine through your tears of joy and a scent of bliss. All of you have much worry of where your new coast lines may be and where your new lands may be. We are concerned with the essence of what is known as the root of this tree. We have noticed that the leaves are withering upon the vine and now we must return to this root and water it lavishly.

We ask each one of you to look into the alchemy of your own life. If you are harvesting fruits of discontent, this time now comes for you to water your root. Where do these life giving waters come from? It is from this I AM as Beloved St. Germain, my brother, has held this focus of freedom. It is this freedom that allows these waters to provide for you, for you are made in the image and likeness of great divinity.

People of this, the Greening Map, open your root to one another and realize it is the same water that you all drink from. People of these greening lands, open your hearts so your fruit is one fruit. People of these greening lands serve mankind and bring this great destiny of compassion. I shall open for questions.

I thank you very much for coming forward and for bringing the light of compassion to us again. The only question that I have is what key focus, what key words can we say to these people who come to us that their hearts may change, that their eyes may see, their ears may hear and they will take the actions of freedom. I ask for your guidance in this.

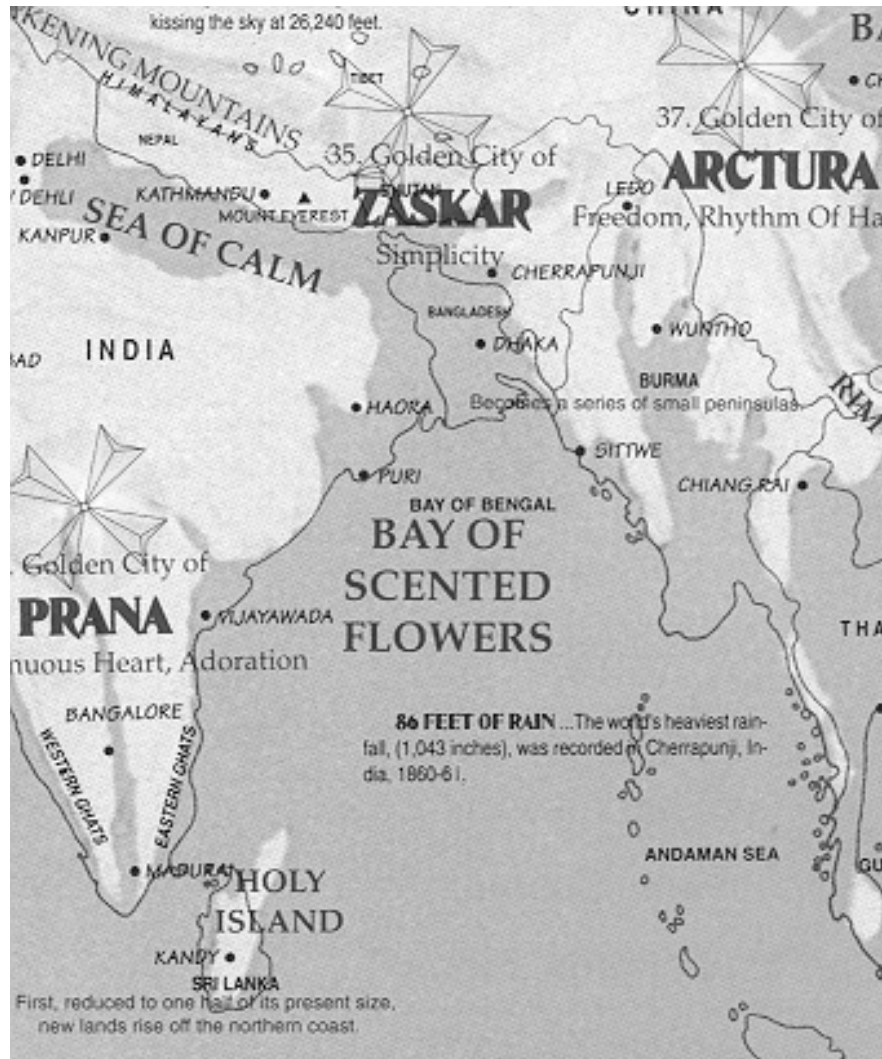

Dear Brother, tell them that all life is one life and then as they take a step they will realize that each step that they take walks with life. All action is life. It is one life and one vibration of compassion for one life. The air that you breathe is one life. The food that you eat comes from this one life. All of you share in a unity of being. Reunite in your law of one.

Thank you. I have no further questions.

I shall close from this discourse and will resume tomorrow.
